++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Largely dry and mild with sunshine in the northeast.

Today:
A brighter day than of late for northeastern areas as sunny intervals develop. However, staying rather cloudy further south and west, where the odd spot of drizzle may also occur. Rather mild for all. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tonight:
Largely dry. A continued southwest-northeast split, with cloud across the former and clearer spells for the latter. Chilly under the cloud breaks, with a risk of fog patches and frost. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Thursday:
Fog slowly clearing on Thursday morning before cloud spreads more widely across the country, with occasional bright spells in the afternoon. Largely dry but a touch less mild than recently. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Largely settled into the weekend, but on the cloudy side with limited bright spells in the afternoon. Continued risk of fog and frost under overnight cloud breaks. Gradually turning colder.
